

New Saw Flange/Collet #25

January 2011

The newest output available on BENZ aggregates is a combination internal ER25 and a saw flange. The flange has a 40mm arbor with 8 @ M5 screws on a 52mm diameter. This is a great universal option for users who need flexibility.

BENZ will also build your aggregate with different outputs on the same unit for even greater ease in accommodating the various types of work that can come at you.

